CURB FAVORED

STRIKE TIEUPSAPPLE ADVERTISING
IN MICHIGAN MAY BE ABOLISHED

Lansing, March 6 (AP)—The House judiciary committee today reported favorably on a measure which would prohibit interruptions of utility services during strikes, but added an amendment to the effect that the bill was not intended to prohibit utility strikes.

The measure, introduced by Rep. Lewis G. Christman, Ann Arbor Republican, is similar to a bill passed in the Senate this week.

When the Senate measure was being debated, Senator Joseph A. Brown, Detroit Democrat, fought unsuccessfully to attach the same amendment.

Opposed to Stoppages

"I'm going to have to study this amendment before I approve it," said Christman, "but on the face of it, it looks all right. I'll always vote against taking away a man's right to strike, but I am opposed to stoppages of electricity, water, city service, and any other utility."

A bill proposing the abolition of the apple commission and its program of advertising and promotion of Michigan apples introduced today heralded the proposed consolidation of all such agencies under one head, the introducer said.

Rep. William J. Cleary, Benton Harbor Republican, declared that one agency could more economically and efficiently handle the promotion of cherries, peaches, and like products than the separate agencies do at present.

The House passed and sent to the Senate a measure which would permit one person to hold more than one office in an insurance company, except the president and vice-president.

Bonus Setup Delayed

The Senate delayed concurring in House amendments to a bill setting up qualifications and machinery for the payment of the veterans' bonus. Members indicated that when the proposal comes up again Monday night they would refuse to concur in one amendment and ask a conference committee be named.

Sensors Harry F. Hittle, East Lansing, and Haskell L. Nichols, Jackson, objected to the Lodge amendment which would permit the state to take advantage of any federal aid offered under the conditions imposed by the federal government.

The amendment has been intended to make available to the state postal franking privileges and the acquisition of surplus office equipment but the senators said it was too broad.

The Senate taxation committee, after a public hearing, agreed to amend the Millikin bill to lift the ceiling from the corporation privilege tax.

The committee proposed to reduce the tax from 2.5 mills per dollar of capitalization to 1.5 and to remove the ceiling. The sponsor, Senator James T. Milliken, Traverse City, said the lower tax would benefit small concerns while the removal of the ceiling would require the 20 largest corporations in the state to pay the same rate of tax as the smaller ones. The revenue this year actually would be reduced $354,479, Milliken said, but he predicted it would increase in future years.

RUSSIA SNEAKS
UP ON HUNGARYSoviets Accused By U. S.
Of Trying To Force
Dictatorship

Washington, March 6 (AP)—The United States accused Russia today of trying to overthrow a freely-elected government and set up a dictatorship in Hungary.

The blunt note, dispatched by Secretary of State Marshall before his departure for Moscow, denounced the arrest by Red army soldiers of Bela Kovacs, member of the Hungarian parliament and until recently secretary general of the Smallholders party, which has a majority in the parliament.

The charges that Kovacs conspired to form anti-Soviet terror groups and espionage organizations were branded in the American note as "unwarranted."

Combined with the current plans to support Greece's shaky anti-Communist regime, the protest appears to forecast a firm American stand at the big four foreign ministers meeting against further extension of Soviet dominance in Europe.

Today's action is to be followed, officials indicated, by economic aid for Hungary in addition to the postwar assistance already given.

Heavy U. S. Cruiser
Christened; Carries
9 Eight-Inch Guns

Newport News, Va., March 6 (AP)—One of the "heaviest of the heavens"—the sleek new cruiser Newport News whose armament innovation in the main battery will give her three times the fire power of other eight-inch gunned ships—was christened in her building dock here today and dedicated to "the goal of universal peace."

Although classed as a heavy cruiser, the Newport News' 17,000 tons and overall length of 716 feet make her comparable to the battleships of the first World War. The nine eight-inch guns of her main battery will operate automatically, something new in fire controls of rifles of this calibre, with about three times the fire power of manually operated eight-inchers.

Mt. Etna Eruption
Renewed; Hot Lava
Threatens Homes

Catania, Sicily, March 6 (AP)—A renewed eruption of Mount Etna through both a new and old crater continued to pour molten lava tonight in a fiery display even more spectacular than last week's.

Peasants, whose homes were endangered, gathered at the sides of the volcano and watched and waited. Lava was flowing in two main streams, one towards Randazzo, a town of 14,000 at the volcano's northern perimeter, and the other between Randazzo and Pisciara.

Ski-Planes Will Help
Snow-Trapped Families
In Thumb-Alpena Area

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The state was prepared to provide aid for snow-trapped families in the Thumb and Alpena districts through ski-equipped aircraft made available through the Aviation Association of Michigan.

The offer of aid by planes was made by the association to Governor Sigler who instructed State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard to check the areas by road to determine if there were any families needing medical attention or food.

Leonard said there had been no calls for aid received as yet but that the police were in touch with the aviation group in readiness if any emergency trips were necessary.

Meanwhile, state highway department crews reported good progress in clearing snow-blocked trunklines with the end of snow drifting. The department said there were still some blocked areas in Alpena, Huron and Sanilac counties. Narrow and one-way sections were reported on many highways in counties along the Lake Huron shore from Port Huron to Alpena.

In a move to aid deer believed to be starving because of the deep snow, the conservation department reported it was helping the Sportsmen's club of Lewistown haul 150 bales of alfalfa hay to feed the deer in the Montmorency county area.

POLICE HUNTING
CHICAGO KILLERMother Of 5 Slain On Way Home From Local Bakery

Chicago, March 6 (AP)—A mother of five children was shot to death while returning home from a neighborhood bakery early today and 150 extra detectives were assigned to the terrorized area to hunt down a killer suspected of preying on women.

Mrs. Ester Libert, 40, was killed by a pistol shot in the back of her head, which climaxed a series of 29 assaults and robberies of women in the West Side Fillmore street police district since Jan. 1. Police said there were no witnesses to the slaying but that the woman's wallet was missing. Her body was found on the walk near her apartment building. Nearby was a sack of breakfast rolls she had purchased for her husband and children who were still asleep.

Police Capt. Frank Reynolds had detailed special squads to the district last week to hunt down the terrorist and today Police Commissioner John C. Prendergast bolstered these reserves with 150 more detectives.

Police said the bullet recovered from the victim's head was the same caliber as one fired into a home in the neighborhood last week. That bullet crashed through a window and buried itself in the ceiling, narrowly missing a 17 year old girl in the room.

BIRD STARTS FIRE

Weston, W. Va., March 6 (AP)—Farmer Warren Hall blamed a night owl or a pigeon for a fire which destroyed his barn, 600 chickens, 40 tons of hay and equipment which he valued at $15,000.

Hall said he saw the bird fly into an unprotected light bulb. It cracked, the core fell into some hay and the fire quickly raged out of control.

DOCTOR FLIES AROUND

Bad Axe, Mich., March 6 (AP)—Snowdrifts that made highway travel impossible did not keep Dr. Willett J. Herrington from making his rounds this week.

The physician and Leland Wood, manager of the Bad Axe airport, put skis on a light plane and took off for visits to the home of William Horvot of Verona and Ignatz Miller of Rapson.

Sick children were treated at each stop.

Cleary Confirmed
As New Member Of Liquor Commission

Lansing, Mich., March 6 (AP)—Owen J. Cleary, of Ypsilanti, and G. Mennen Williams, of Grosse Pointe farms were confirmed by the senate today as members of the state liquor control commission.

Cleary was chosen chairman last week after Governor Sigler named him and Williams to that agency. In secret executive session, four senators voted against Williams' confirmation, reportedly on the grounds that as a former official of the Office of Price Administration he might have a "policeman's complex." Cleary's confirmation was unanimous.

Senators spoke heatedly for a considerable time against commission policies, it was learned.

LOWER TRADE
BARS BACKED
BY PRESIDENTNATION IS WARNED
TO PREVENT BIG ECONOMIC WAR

BY WILLIAM C. BANNARD

Waco, Tex., March 6 (AP)—The alternative to lowering of international trade barriers is economic war, President Truman warned the nation today in an address delivered after he received an honorary degree from Baylor University.

The president left by plane for Washington at 2:14 p. m. (CST) after pausing here three and a half hours on his return from his good will trip to Mexico City.

Mr. Truman reached Washington at 7:20 p. m. C.S.T., after a non-stop flight from here.

Cold, wet weather thinned the anticipated 150,000 persons expected to pack highways and streets along his line of parade, but despite the cold, downtown sidewalks were jammed and Waco hall where he spoke was packed.

Nobility Wins

Eighty-nine-year-old Dr. J. T. Harrington, chairman of Baylor's board of trustees, introduced the president as a candidate for the award that later was presented by Pat Neff, president of Baylor.

The president appealed for full congressional support of the reciprocal trade agreements program, and for the forthcoming Geneva negotiations.

He said "we are the giants of the economic world" of today.

"We can lead the nations to economic peace or we can plunge them into economic war," he said. "In such a war, nobody wins."

He warned that isolationism could result in another depression. He said that the alternative to "regimentation" of international commerce is the world trade charter to be considered by 18 nations at Geneva next month.

BED STORY DELETED

Waco, Tex., March 6 (AP)—An assertion that President Truman's 94-year-old mother refused to sleep in the Lincoln bed at the White House was deleted today from a citation conferring an honorary degree upon the chief executive and in Grandview, Mo., the president's sister declared Mrs. Truman "never refused to sleep in any bed at the White House at any time."

The citation was read by Pat M. Neff, Baylor University president, at the awarding of a doctor of laws degree to Mr. Truman. (As given out in advance, the citation asserted Mrs. Martha E. Truman "declared a few weeks ago that when she visited the White House she would sleep on the floor before she would occupy the bed in which Abraham Lincoln slept.")

In denying the statement, Miss Mary Jane Truman, the president's mother, said she had never refused to sleep in the Lincoln bed.

The house was knocked off its foundation by the impact. The train gondola was left sticking halfway out one wall.

Railroad officials said the 11-car train, enroute from Lansing to Jackson, was being switched onto a siding here when the cars were derailed and ran over the abutment at the end of the siding.

A Michigan Central spokesman said a mainline crew from Jackson, unfamiliar with the Holt yard, had been operating the train. The rest of the train continued on to Jackson. It had been first reported the house was set afire and the Haslett fire department answered an alarm, but there was no blaze.

Boy Convicted
Of 2 Murders

Schoolboy, 14, Fights
Tears, Faces Life
Term In Prison

Oroville, Calif., March 6 (AP)—Fighting back tears, Albert Jones, 14-year-old schoolboy, heard a jury convict him today of killing a high school girl over a cat, a housewife over a car and of attempting to kill the housewife's husband.

Should the same jury find him sane at a trial starting Tuesday, Albert faces a possible sentence of life imprisonment.

Today's verdicts were: Guilty of first degree murder of Patricia Crandall, 15. She was strangled and partly burned last June in a Crico, Calif., cottage after a childish dispute over treatment of a kitten.

Guilty of second degree murder of Mrs. Myrtle Nielsen, 47. She was shot in the back last July while getting Albert a cookie and the state charged the boy was angry because the Nielsen had denied him permission to drive the family car.

Guilty of attempted murder of H. T. Nielsen. Summoned to his Oroville home after his wife was shot, he was fired on as he entered the house, the bullet just missing him.

Acquittal of charges that he intended to murder Betty Nielsen, 21, and Barbara Searl, 9, who were tied and terrorized after Mrs. Nielsen was shot.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Ada Jones, wept uncontrollably as she heard the verdict.

Legislators Favor
Using Property Tax
To Pay State BonusMISS TRUMAN'S
DEBUT PLANNED

Lansing, March 6 (AP)—A proposal to take two mills of the local property tax to finance Michigan's $200,000,000 veterans' bonus is favored by the consensus of legislative leaders, Governor Sigler said today.

The governor said that viewpoint was expressed Wednesday night at a conference he had with members of the house and senate taxation and appropriating committees.

He said the group favored a "bonus reallocation of the 15 mill property tax" over suggestions for specific new taxes or using a portion of a present state tax to pay for the bonus.

It was estimated that the reallocation would produce upwards of $17,000,000, virtually the annual cost of the bonus. The two mill return, state officials emphasized, would mean no increase in the local property tax but will take a portion of the taxes now being levied.

The plan, Sigler said, will "offset" some of the larger allocations going to local government from the sales tax diversion amendment, but the committee felt it "would bring about a fair assessment valuation over the state."

Sigler said the legislators were opposed to suggestions for a state income tax to finance the bonus and that veterans' groups particularly were opposed to the application of a new tax to pay for the bonus on the grounds that the servicemen would be paying for their own grants.

The senate today received the house-approved veterans military pay act which defines residence and other requirements for payments and sets up administration machinery for the bonus.

Washington, March 6 (AP)—Blonde, blue-eyed Margaret Truman will make her radio debut on a coast-to-coast hookup, Sunday night—but "on her own," not as the first daughter in the land.

A coloratura soprano, Miss Truman will appear with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra on an American Broadcasting company program from 7 to 8 p. m., Central Standard Time.

A White House announcement emphasized that Miss Truman "wishes to be accepted as a singer on her own merit, and in the same manner in which any other aspiring American singer would approach her career." It also was disclosed that she has received a movie offer, but will not accept.

ABC officials here said she will sing "one or two numbers and possibly an encore." Her choice probably will fall on songs of a light or semi-classical nature.

The chief executive's 23-year-old daughter has been studying voice for seven years.

Mr. Truman will listen-in to her bow on the radio big-time at the Key West, Fla., Naval Station, enroute on his Caribbean trip. Mrs. Truman will hear her daughter's voice over a White House radio.

Holt, Mich., March 6 (AP)—Three cars of a Michigan Central freight train crashed over an abutment, crossed a yard and smashed into the home of Fred Welsh, 41, here tonight.

Welsh and his three children were taken to Sparrow hospital in Lansing, where Welsh was treated for head and face lacerations. The children were released after observation.

The house was knocked off its foundation by the impact. The train gondola was left sticking halfway out one wall.

Railroad officials said the 11-car train, enroute from Lansing to Jackson, was being switched onto a siding here when the cars were derailed and ran over the abutment at the end of the siding.

Detroit Youth, 16,
Gets Life Sentence
For Killing Father

Detroit, March 6 (AP)—Sixteen-year-old Richard Vauw was sentenced to life imprisonment today for the July 31 murder of his policeman father.

The youthful prisoner stood calmly in recorder's court as Judge Arthur E. Gordon imposed the mandatory life sentence. His mother, Mrs. Emma Vauw, collapsed as the judge announced the sentence.

"I have never passed a sentence of this kind with greater reluctance," Judge Gordon declared.

Richard was convicted of first degree murder in the shooting of his father. The youth testified his father had abused him.

Coronado, Calif., March 6 (AP)—Maj. Gen. John Henry Russell, 74, USMC Ret., commandant of the Marine Corps from 1933 to 1936, died of a heart attack in the Coronado hospital this morning.

MARINE GENERAL DIES

HIGH TRIBUNAL
UPHOLDS FINE
AGAINST UMWNO - STRIKE EDICT
CLAMPED ON SOFT
COAL MINERS

BY WILLIAM R. SPEAR

Washington, March 6 (AP)—An historic 7-2 supreme court decision today adjudged John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers guilty of contempt and branded their actions a "serious threat" to constitutional government and the nation's welfare.

Moreover, the high tribunal in effect clamped a "no strike" edict on the soft coal miners for the present.

With repeated rebukes to Lewis, it sustained the anti-strike injunction Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough issued to head off last fall's coal strike. It approved the contempt convictions of Lewis and the United Mine Workers for disobeying the injunction. The $10,000 fine against Lewis was upheld.

Punishment Imposed
As for the $350,000 fine against the union, the court upheld $700,000 of it as punishment for contempt already committed in the strike which ended Dec. 7. And it held the other $2,800,000 over the union's head, to be assessed if it strikes March 31 or any other time so long as the government operates the mines.

To avoid the $2,800,000 fine against the union, Lewis must withdraw "unconditionally" his notice purporting to terminate his contract with the government, and so notify the miners, within five days after the court issues its mandate. This normally would be issued to Judge Goldsborough in 25 days, which would bring it to the March 31 deadline Lewis set when he ordered them back to work Dec. 7. He also must withdraw "any other notice" of the kind, issued now or later. These contract termination notices serve in effect as strike calls.

Capital Surprised
The court's surprise announcement, coming on a Thursday instead of the usual Monday decision day, astounded the capital, and Lewis and his aides withheld all comment for the time being. From the tone of his Dec. 7 message to the miners ending the strike, however, it appeared that he was willing to accept the high court's decision. His reaction may be forthcoming tomorrow when he is scheduled to appear before the Senate labor committee.

There was angry muttering among the miners in the coal fields, however. John P. Busarello, a union district secretary, protested at Pittsburgh that the court "gave labor a rotten deal."

Congressmen generally applauded the decision, although a number of them said it is still necessary to revise labor laws.

Capt. N. H. Collisson, federal coal mines administrator, said the decision will help to bring the union and private operators together to work out a contract, although other factors still stand in the way. He added that the reduction of the fine is "immaterial" for "it was the principle that we were interested in."

Contract Suit Next
It was the government, at the direction of President Truman, which went into Goldsborough's court to seek the injunction.

The supreme court decision does not rule as to whether the government's contract with Lewis—the so-called Krug-Lewis agreement—can be terminated by Lewis, as he contends, or whether it is good for as long as the government

SLUMP IN LATE 1947 PREDICTED

Drop In Food Prices Foreseen By End Of Year

BY OVID A. MARTIN
Washington, March 6 (AP)—The Bureau of Agricultural Economics said today forces now at work seem to indicate a business recession late in 1947 and a downturn in prices, particularly in foods.

It said wholesale food prices—which in recent weeks climbed to a record level—may decline from 15 to 20 per cent by the end of the year. Farm prices could drop 20 to 25 per cent, it added, if the business downturn should come at the time when farm marketings are heavy.

The bureau emphasized, however, that "timely downward adjustments" in prices could improve the outlook.

The major force which the bureau said is operating to bring on a recession is a declining volume of purchasing power in the hands of living, the bureau said the "real income" (that is purchasing power) of salary and wage earners has been declining since V-J Day.

Production and sales of goods have been held at record dollar levels since the end of the war, apparently by spending of wartime savings and by installment credit.

The bureau said that there are signs that purchasing power derived from these supplementary sources is declining. Many persons already have obtained all installment credit they can get or want to carry.

It said early downward adjustments in prices could improve the outlook by causing the "real income" of wage and salary earners to rise to a level consistent with continued high business activity.

The report added, however, that such flexibility in the price structure has rarely been observed.

Industrial activity may reach a record level during the first half of the year and then decline from five to ten per cent during the last half, the bureau's economists predicted.

The annual rate of income payments during the first half of the year is likely to increase somewhat over the annual rate of $173,000,000,000 reached in the last quarter of 1946, their report said.

"If industrial activities decline as much as anticipated, income payments to individuals in the second half of 1947 may be 8 to 12 per cent below those of the first half," it added.

City Clerk Carl E. Anderson Thursday sent the War Assets Administration $13,000 as the 20% down payment on the laboriously acquired government ore dock, and another $13,000 as the first quarterly payment.

Strike Threatened In Western Union By 50,000 Employees

Washington, March 6 (AP)—The AFL today threatened to call a nationwide strike of 50,000 Western Union Telegraph Company employees in 30 days.

This would be about the same time as the April 7 deadline for a cross country telephone tieup threatened by the National Federation of Telephone Workers, an independent organization claiming more than 200,000 members.

Chairman J. A. Payne of the AFL telegraph industry bargaining committee, told Western Union that the Smith-Connelly Act requirement of a 30-day strike notice will be filed with the labor department possibly tomorrow.

Payne said that the company's "contract agenda" had provoked the action because it would take away all the gains Western Union employees have obtained since 1939.

Moscow Lends Aid To Polish Republic

Moscow, March 6 (AP)—A Polish-Soviet agreement, giving the young Polish republic a Russian loan, ships, railroad equipment, armaments and military equipment, and establishing harmony in viewpoints on Germany, was announced in the Moscow press today.

The newspapers reported that Poland will receive a loan of $23,855,000 in gold, coal supplies due to Russia from Poland will be reduced by half and German trains seized by Russia will be turned over to Poland. The Poles will also get a part of the German merchant fleet and armaments and military equipment as credit from the Soviet Union.

Hoover Dam Bill Passes In House

Washington, March 6 (AP)—A bill to rename Boulder Dam on the Colorado river in honor of former President Herbert Hoover sailed easily through the House today.

Rep. Brown (R-Ohio) and others noted that it was largely through Hoover's efforts as Secretary of Commerce in the 1920's that the dam was constructed.

It was named Hoover Dam by Secretary of Interior Ray Lyman Wilbur in 1930, but changed to Boulder Dam by the succeeding Democratic Secretary of Interior, Harold L. Ickes, three years later.

RENT INCREASES LOSE IN SENATE

Legislation Will Not Be Ready Probably For Week Or Two

Washington, March 6 (AP)—A member of the Senate banking committee reported tonight that the committee has rejected a recommendation for a 10 per cent "across-the-board" increase in rents.

This member, who withheld the use of his name, told a reporter that the action was taken in a closed two-hour session this afternoon.

He added that Chairman Tobey (R-N. H.) directed a five-man sub-committee—which previously voted 3 to 2 for the increase—to redraft legislation along lines recommended in a new bill by Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.).

This bill proposes continued rent control under OPA with any decrease or increases to be handled on a local or individual basis.

Tobey parried direct questions himself.

"We have not turned them down but we have not accepted them," he said of the sub-committee recommendations for the flat increase and shift of rent control administration from OPA to the courts.

Tobey handed reporters a statement which said little other than that the committee had "discussed in great detail" the rental legislation and probably would have no bill ready for the Senate for a "week or two."

HIGH TRIBUNAL UPHOLDS FINE AGAINST UMW

runs the mines, as the justice department contends.

But it upholds the temporary injunction which Judge Goldsborough issued Dec. 4, after the Lewis trial, pending his determination of that issue. The next legal step now would be a move by the government to have a date set to try that issue.

The government may be in no hurry about that, however. Its power to operate the mines, seized last May in an earlier strike, expires June 30, unless Congress extends it, and officials hope to turn them back to the private owners by then.

Meanwhile Lewis is stopped in his efforts to win higher pay and other concessions, for the administration has refused flatly to negotiate, holding that the demands are such that only the private owners are in position to grant them. The exact amount of the pay increase and other demands Lewis has made never have been disclosed officially.

Justices Divided

Two big issues between Lewis and the owners are unionization of foremen and a levy upon each ton of coal to finance a welfare fund. The government granted both these demands in the Krug-Lewis agreement, but measures are pending in Congress now which would outlaw them, thus relieving the private operators from granting the concessions.

The nine supreme court justices were sharply divided on the issues raised by the case. While the vote was 7 to 2 in upholding the contempt convictions against Lewis and the union, it was only 5 to 4 in overruling Lewis' claim that the Norris-LaGuardia Anti-Injunction Act outlawed Judge Goldsborough's restraining order.

Last Nov. 15 Lewis signalled for a strike to start Nov. 20 by serving notice that the Krug-Lewis agreement was terminated. The government on Nov. 19 obtained a temporary restraining order from Judge Goldsborough directing Lewis to call off the strike notice, and it was this that Lewis and the union were convicted of disobeying.

Chief Justice Vinson, writing the majority opinion—his first major one since he ascended the bench at the start of this term—called Lewis' action "an attempt to repudiate and override the instrument of lawful government." Again, he wrote that the "conduct showed a total lack of respect for the judicial process."

A majority of the court feels, the opinion said, "that the course taken by the union carried with it such a serious threat to orderly constitutional government and to the economic and social welfare of the nation that a fine of substantial size is required in order to emphasize the gravity of the offense of which the union was found guilty."

Coal Diggers Rebuked

The first loyalty of the miners should have been to their country ahead of their union, the court said.

"In our complex society," it declared, "there is a great variety of limited loyalties, but the overriding loyalty of all is to our country and to the institutions under which a particular interest may be pursued."

Joining in Vinson's opinion were Justices Reed, Jackson and Burton. But Jackson noted the exception that the Norris-LaGuardia Act "relieved the courts of jurisdiction to issue injunctions in this class of case."

dent's sister, said she and her mother shared a room at the White House once occupied by Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands.

Neff, a former Texas governor, later was asked by reporters why he dropped the Lincoln bed story. "I'm not going to tell you," he said.

Queried about the origin of the story, he remarked, "Well, it's authentic. I heard it from a person who heard Mrs. Truman say it."

She's No Yankee

The fiery little Mrs. Truman has lived nearly all her life in Jackson county, Missouri, once predominantly southern in sympathy and mode of living. Her father, Solomon Young, came to Region in 1841 from Kentucky.

As a slender, dark-haired child of nine, the president's mother watched Kansas redlegs, Civil War renegades wearing Union uniforms, loot and burn her father's farm.

Two years later, on a simmering August afternoon the redlegs came to the farm a second time. They were acting on an order issued by Union General Thomas Ewing that demanded removal of all secessionists from Jackson county. With several families the Youngs were forced to leave, taking along only one cartload of possessions.

Young Martha Ellen Young, her four sisters, two brothers and their parents spent three bitter years of exile in Platte county. One brother, Will, then joined the Confederate army.

Her unhappy childhood experiences during the Civil War once prompted Mrs. Truman to say: "I was born and reared in Jackson county. Do not get the idea I am a Yankee."

Scotland's marriage rate was the highest within 10 years in 1932. Its birth rate was the lowest on record that year.

Louisville Boosts Derby Day Prices

Louisville, Ky., March 6 (AP)—It's going to cost more to visit Louisville for the Kentucky Derby this year than at any time since before the war.

First class hotels here already have posted a price of $20 a day for double rooms, payable in advance on the basis of three days—a total of $60. Hotel operators say these prices are similar to those charged during the Derby before the OPA clamped on ceiling rates in 1943.

SMALL FARMERS BUTCHER WOODS

USFS Advocates State Or Federal Eye On All Timber Cutting

Because as a general rule, the small farmer with the small woodlot—and this includes 1200 farmers in Delta county—has what officials of the U. S. Forest Service call "poor cutting practices," the service is recommending state or federal supervision of all timber cutting.

"The crux of this problem of increasing our timber growth," U. S. Forest Service officials said, "is the small woodland holding."

And that lays it right in the lap of the farmer. Because the three-fourths of the owners of small woodlots are farmers, and their acreage make up about half of the total small acreage holdings.

Farmer owned woodlands make up 36 per cent of all forest land in northern states, and represent 35 per cent of the saw timber. And about 73 per cent of the farmers of this area indulge in "poor cutting practices."

Throughout the country, farm woodlot average about 41 acres each for those farms which contain them. In Delta county the more than 114,000 acres of woodland are contained on over 1200 farms averaging about 94 acres per farm.

"While such small forest acreage cannot provide the main source of income to the owner, it can contribute to farm living by supplying fuel posts, or lumber for farm use as well as supplementary cash income," Forest Service officials explain. "The farm woodland can be and often is handled as an integral part of the farm business."

The rub comes in it was explained, when crops turn out poorly, and need for cash dictates an unwise cutting of timber holdings.

Meanwhile the American Forestry Association board of directors has prepared a broad program for the development of forest lands in the United States to meet continuing high-level requirements for wood and wood products. This program does not include nationalization of the farm woodlot, but does include recommendations for more professional assistance to the farmer, as well as more stringent cutting regulations by each state.

It proposes organization, in addition, of an American Forestry Council, which would provide owners with educational information on cutting practices. The farm woodlot owner would be represented here through regular-existing farm organizations.

Both the Parkyakarkus and Bob Burns shows will also be dropped because their ratings don't justify the costs. Kenny Delmar's "Hollywood Jackpot" will leave the air in March and the American Home Products Company will cut the coverage on C. B. S. of their "Our Gal Sunday" and "Romance of Helen Trent" shows from 150 stations to 85 in a sharp reduction of costs.

This does not mean the advertisers are pulling out of radio; it just means that they are scanning costs more closely than at any time in the last seven years. During the war, the sponsors had a lot of money to spend which would otherwise have gone to the government in taxes. They bought big, expensive shows with orchestras, comedians and everything but a seal act. This brought the sponsor considerable prestige and fairly good Hooper ratings.

Today the economy-minded sponsor is judging shows by an entirely different criterion: how many people is he reaching per $1,000 he spends? Two inexpensive daytime shows, for instance, may reach as many people and possibly even more prospective purchasers than one big nighttime show. The prestige was fun while it lasted and the money lasted but the easy money days are over.

Far-sighted broadcasters are greeting the new trend with a sigh of relief. For one thing, costs had reached an all-time high. Radio programs were becoming so prohibitively expensive that, if the costs continued unchecked, the advertisers would put their money into other and less expensive media. Another—and to the listener more important reason—is that the tightening advertising budget is stimulating the broadcasters into flights of ingenuity and energy not seen in years.

From now on, a lot more brains and a lot less money will go into radio programs, which will be a good thing for every one concerned. There is a flurry of activity around the networks these days more intense than anything that has gone on for many years. The networks have always produced a few radio shows of their own but the real burden of programming—and inevitably the control of programming—fell on the advertising agencies.

All four networks today are producing their own shows more feverishly than at any other time in recent years. N. B. C. is now peddling some thirty shows to the advertising agencies. These are chiefly summer replacements, but it is hoped that some of them will last into the regular season. Two-thirds of them were originated by the N. B. C. program department.

Even more active are the Hollywood and New York offices of C. B. S. C. B. S. has developed thirty-four radio programs, all of them owned outright by the network. Fourteen of these are now on the air on a sustaining basis and twenty others are available on records for any interested sponsor. Besides these, C. B. S. has developed and sold "Arthur Godfrey's Talent Scouts," "Jean Sablon, 'The Whistler,'" "Give and Take," "Let's Pretend" and "Garden Gate"—all within the last year.

A. B. C. has developed and sold Henry Morgan and has also put on the air "Willie Piper" and its new show "Beulah" as sustainers looking for sponsorship.

Radio In Review

By John Crosby

The Coming Struggle for Power
As predicted by many radio executives at the beginning of the year, sponsors are beginning to demand cheaper radio shows. A portent of things to come is the current rash of cancellations of radio programs. "Maisie," for instance, will be dropped at the end of the year not because it isn't a good show but because it costs $13,500 a week to produce. Most disinterested observers would agree that it shouldn't cost more than $7,000 at most.

Both the Parkyakarkus and Bob Burns shows will also be dropped because their ratings don't justify the costs. Kenny Delmar's "Hollywood Jackpot" will leave the air in March and the American Home Products Company will cut the coverage on C. B. S. of their "Our Gal Sunday" and "Romance of Helen Trent" shows from 150 stations to 85 in a sharp reduction of costs.

New State Building Program Puts Crimp In College Spending

Lansing (AP) — A compromise state building program was sponsored today by the senate finance committee at a cost of $6,903,000 more than previously appropriated grants of $31,000,000.

Senator Otto W. Bishop said the new program requires the stopping of some projects already under construction at state colleges and institutions, providing only enough funds in those cases to pay for work already done. Other projects are allowed money for completion.

Bishop declared one faction in the legislature sought to stop all institutional building and another to complete all buildings now started.

Bishop said the committee was "keeping the promise" of the last legislature to give Michigan State College and the University of Michigan each $3,200,000 to complete parts of their programs, thus providing M. S. C. with a total program of $7,000,000 and the University $8,000,000.

The committee allowed a $235,000 increase in allotments for miscellaneous state institutions, an increase of $274,000 for the other state colleges and held the hospital group to the same appropriation allowed last year, with some changes within the group.

The committee stopped progress on the proposed Northville State hospital with a $565,000 grant for site and some utilities, and approved funds for the addition of 1,400 new beds at four other institutions.

The committee made these specific recommendations, with projects marked "incomplete" to be stopped as soon as available funds run out:

University of Michigan: general service building, $1,000,000, incomplete; business and school, $2,425,000; engineering addition, $1,400,000; chemistry building, $2,650,000; power plant, $525,000, incomplete; maternity hospital, $900,000, abandoned.

Michigan State College: classrooms, $1,200,000; science building, $2,900,000; agricultural engineering, $800,000; home management laboratory, $250,000; power plant, $975,000, incomplete; electrical engineering building, $325,000, incomplete; physics building, $450,000, incomplete; poultry building, $81,000, abandoned; dairy building, $25,000, abandoned.

Wayne University: science and classroom building, $2,700,000, no change.

College of Mines, physical training building and athletic field, $860,000; Fort Brady renovation, $107,000, finished; heating plant, $300,000, incomplete; radiation laboratory, $40,000.

Michigan State Normal: classrooms, $890,000; remodel science building, $50,000; heating plant, $265,000, incomplete.

Northern Michigan College of Education: Union, $450,000; heating plant, $100,000, incomplete.

Michigan Veterans' facility: domiciliary unit, $680,000; power plant, $125,000, incomplete; land, $130,000.

Houghton Tuberculosis Sanatorium: $100,000.

Newberry State Hospital: service building, $920,000; residence, $16,000.

Ionia Reformatory: power plant, $150,000.

Marquette Branch Prison: outside dormitory, $270,000.

The consequences of this network activity are far-reaching, though the broadcasters are still a little shy in talking about it. If the networks can produce better and cheaper shows than the advertisers, the advertising agencies' control of programming will inevitably diminish.

"If we can't produce better shows than the advertising agencies, then there's no point in spending all this money and time," said one broadcasting executive. "We're not interested in the cost of the show (whereas an advertiser with his straight 15 per cent definitely is) but in its quality. We want listeners and we want good programs on our network." All radio listeners will heartily concur.

N. B. C. asserts it can offer a program to a sponsor—or a package, as it is known in the industry—for as little as one-third the cost an agency would charge for the same show. "Grand Marquee," originated by the Chicago program department of N. B. C. and sold to Hudnut is an outstanding example.

The three junior networks—C. B. S., A. B. C. and Mutual—have another more selfish reason for controlling their own shows. All three networks are sick and tired of developing new radio stars and new radio shows and then losing them to N. B. C. N. B. C., with its magnificent nation-wide coverage and great prestige, is a logical goal both for the entertainers and the sponsors to aim at. But it's a little hard on the other networks, which have to compete frequently with the shows they developed.

A. B. C. now has twenty-three programs firmly pegged to its network and C. B. S. controls its thirty-four new shows outright. Sponsors may come and go but the programs will stay on their present network.

This too would be a heartening development all around. If the talent were distributed more equitably among networks, competition between shows would increase commensurately. And competition invariably improves every one's product.

New Freighter Line Begins Operations On Lakes April 15

Detroit, (AP)—T. H. Browning, president of the newly-formed Browning Steamship Co., announced yesterday the re-fitting of the company's eight freighters preparatory to beginning Great Lakes operations April 15.

The company will enter the bulk commodities and automobile carrying trade, Browning said. Bulk commodities will include ore, steel, scrap, coal and grain.

The vessels were purchased from the Overlakes Shipping Company whose headquarters are in New York City, where Browning formerly served as the company's general manager.

The new company, organized last September, already has purchased a 36-acre plot at the foot of Lycaen street in Detroit which will be its main marine terminal. Negotiations are underway for additional purchases in Cleveland, O., Buffalo, N. Y., and Duluth, Minn.

Proposed operations will take in each of the Great Lakes with vessels playing as far east as Toronto. Total capacity of the eight freighters is 65,000 tons.

Time Problem in U. P.

THE question of a uniform time schedule for the entire Upper Peninsula is under general discussion again and Crystal Falls has taken the initiative in an effort to bring officials of all cities together to work out a satisfactory program.

It is a commendable objective, but one that is virtually impossible to attain because of the complex situation in the Upper Peninsula. The urban areas generally favor fast time at least for the summer months but their adjacent rural areas disapprove. In a recent advisory election in Menominee county, for instance, the City of Menominee heartily endorsed daylight savings time for the summer months but the rest of the county rejected it.

Further complicating the situation is the fact that a portion of the Upper Peninsula now operates on fast time, or eastern standard time throughout the year, winter as well as summer. Some of the other areas crying out for fast time in the summer want to revert to central standard time for the late fall, winter and early spring months.

Cities adjacent to Wisconsin, where central standard time is established by state law, have a problem different from those cities not directly connected with Wisconsin.

The time situation is confused right here in Delta county. The people of Escanaba favor fast time the year around, as the results of the advisory vote in the spring primary election proved, but there has been no such expression from residents of Gladstone or from residents of the townships in Delta county.

The eastern and northern sections of the Upper Peninsula have operated for years on eastern standard time. They like it and would refuse to let other sections of the peninsula dictate to them that they must change to slow time for at least a portion of the year.

The southern and western sections have operated for years on central standard time, except for the summer when most areas changed to daylight savings. They, too, like the schedule that they have worked out for themselves and would not listen to dictation from other areas of the peninsula.

There is hope that eventually a uniform time schedule can be adopted for the entire Upper Peninsula, but there is no chance of that this year. The areas on fast time will never go back to slow time, and those operating on slow time are not ready to move their clocks ahead an hour and leave them there.

Housing Problem Eases

ANNOUNCEMENT by Alfred Brandt, Escanaba contractor, that he will commence the building of 12 homes in April is additional evidence that the long-awaited housing boom will finally get under way this year.

Other contractors have much work lined up for the coming season. Many individuals are also planning to construct or remodel their homes. The shortage of building material is easing, although prices are still high.

Proof that Escanaba is growing will be offered when the residential building boom gets under way in the spring. The large vacant areas in the southwest section of the city will be the scene of much construction activity.

Escanaba's home building boom cannot get started too early. Its various new industries will be operating in full swing by mid-year, but if the workers are to be happy and contented they must have good homes. Makeshift government housing, such as Quonset huts, is not the answer. A home with individuality, like those the contractors will be erecting in various parts of the city, is what the average family wants.

The Soviet Federation

AMONG the things we learn about Soviet Russia from the numerous books on that interesting land, is the fact that, as Professor George B. Cressey says in his "Basis of Soviet Strength," the key word in Soviet geography is continentality. This is to say that within the compact space of European and Asiatic Russia, there is room for all of the United States, Alaska, Canada and Mexico.

Another way of considering the vast size of that territory is to say that when the sun is rising over Cape Bering west of Bering Straits, it is setting on the Baltic lands which constitute far western Russia. The sun never sets on the U.S.S.R., any more than it did on the British Empire which is now in process of liquidation.

One of the most interesting things about the Soviet Union is that it constitutes a federation of numerous and contrasting races, tongues and creeds, according to Professor Cressey. Its population includes no fewer than fifty different nationalities of considerable size, and 169 distinct ethnic groups are charted within its borders.

In this unique 'league of nations' there are no color lines whatever, no distinction in citizenship, and no racial discrimination.

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—The other day a middle-western manufacturer was talking about the problems he faces in this post-war period. He is a partner in a family business with a payroll of about 1000, and lately he has been under great pressure to merge with one of several large corporations.

He likes his independence. Merger is the last thing he wants. Yet he concluded gloomily that he might have to give in and accept one of the very handsome offers that have come from the big corporations.

A loyal and active Republican, this middle-westerner was defending the proposed 20 percent across-the-board income tax cut. It is essential, he argued in a sincere and somewhat agitated fashion, to give some relief to the man in the upper tax brackets. He is being squeezed, so the argument ran, beyond endurance, and one result is surrender to the insistent pressure to merge and combine.

—FEARED INHERITANCE TAX—
In the course of the conversation, it came out that what this independent industrialist really feared was the inheritance tax. He foresaw that his death might force the sale of his stock in order to pay that tax. This, in turn, might mean loss of control of the company on terms extremely adverse to the family and to his heirs.

"So much depends," said the aggrieved industrialist, "on the interpretations of the Bureau of Internal Revenue in Washington. For example, I ought to be able to sell my stock, pay the capital gains tax of 25 per cent, and thereby accumulate sufficient liquid capital to make it possible for my heirs to meet the inheritance tax. But I'm not at all sure I can do that under the regulations of the internal revenue people."

This discussion points up the process of merger—the big fishes swallowing the little fishes—that has been going on at an ever accelerated pace since the end of the war. But it points up even more sharply the crazy-quilt nature of our federal tax structure which, like an idiot topsy, has just "growed" shooting out tentacles here, there and everywhere.

Periodically in the long-since vanished days of the New Deal, the subject of taxes would come up at President Roosevelt's press conferences. He would lean back and talk learnedly about the need for a scientific overhauling of the whole tax structure, local, state and federal. Such an overhauling, he would point out, was long overdue.

But there was always an election just around the corner. And so the overhauling was postponed from year to year.

Today that overhauling job is far more urgent than it was ten years ago. Yet now there is another election just around the corner, and the eager Republicans are trembling like a bloodhound on the leash in sight of long-deferred victory.

It seems fairly obvious that the 20 per cent across-the-board tax cut is bait for that election. It is a present held out to my friend, the middle-western manufacturer, who has been feeling neglected and put through the long years of Democratic rule.

Quite understandably he would like to take this present while the taking is good. But if he is wise, he will look at this gift twice and then three times before he begins to cheer.

—NEEDS REAL OVERHAULING—
It might give him a temporary satisfaction—the illusion that his problems were being solved. This would, however, be only an illusion and a dangerous illusion.

The only real solution is a thorough overhaul of the Jerry-built federal tax structure and particularly an analysis of its relation to state and local systems of taxation. That kind of solution would take patience, skill and a careful regard for the long-term, rather than the short-term, effects of federal taxation.

You find little evidence of any such serious intentions in this Republican Congress. As in other departments, notably that of national defense, the idea seems to be to pay off some obvious campaign debts on the score of economy by cutting the taxes any old way, and then to sit tight for the next election.

That is dangerously short-sighted. It makes Republican expediency look very much like Democratic expediency, the difference being that the bait is held out to another group this time. This would seem to give us no chance at the kind of reasonable, orderly government we have a right to expect.

a, e, i, o, u (some times y and w), which must express 20-odd vowel sounds.

2. Modern English grew out of two totally unlike elements: Anglo-Saxon (Germanic), and Norman French (Romance). The phonetics of the two elements are as far apart as the poles.

3. English abounds in silent letters which once were pronounced. A few examples are the "e" of home, the "h" of ghost, the "l" of walk, the "b" of thumb, the "h" of hours, the "gh" of daughter.

4. Because of these and other complications, English spelling is unphonetic—that is, we do not spell sounds, but words. Examples: write, wright, rite, rights; bomb, comb, tomb; wood, wood; bone, done; bird, word, herd, heard, curd, purd; stirred; birth, berth, dearth, worth; ace, base, bass; chaff, half, laugh, graph; chain, crane, deign, arraign; phrase, mays, praise; gaze, maize; brood, crude, shrewd, bood; bough, cough, dough, hough (hock); through, rough, hicough; cue, few, queue, ewe, you, view.

Therefore, spelling cannot be taught—it must be learned, and learned the hard way, one word at a time. There is no other way. All that the teacher or the spelling book can do is to assign the words to be learned. The rest is up to you, and you I'm sorry; but English is like that.

Only.

The Mother Bird

Good Morning!

By The Bugler

SAYING FAREWELL—The old building was being moved. For several weeks it had been raised above the ground on big steel wheels, ready for its trip. It was a two-story structure in front, with a one-story addition at the back. The clapping siding needed paint, but otherwise it seemed in fairly good condition considering its age.

Now the building was being moved and the kids in the neighborhood were in a fever of excitement. Just why they were in such a state it would have been hard to say. They had passed the building many times on their way to and from school, and on trips to the neighborhood store. They knew the building when it stood solidly on the ground. After it was raised on wheels preparatory to moving, they became accustomed to it in that position.

Familiar as the building was to them, it suddenly became the center of their attention when the wheels turned and it was on its way to another neighborhood.

A CHRISTMAS CARD—At noon the house came to a stop at the intersection of South 12th street and Sixth avenue. The children gathered around the house like African natives around a wounded elephant. And like little savages they attacked, throwing chunks of ice and snowballs at it. They wanted to break the windows yet were afraid. Aprehensively they clambered up and into the building through its doorway, and then screaming dropped through a hole in the floor and scurried beneath it.

They climbed the stairs to the second floor. They peeked out of the windows. They even looked in the mail box. And there they found a Christmas card addressed to John Kahlow, the old cigar maker.

AN ERA PASSES—When that building was moved from the corner of 11th street and Fifth avenue south where it stood for many years only a few people realized that an era was passing—the era of the handmade cigar and the pride of good work with agile fingers.

John Kahlow, 86, of 504 South 11th street, has seen that era come and go. For it was his cigar factory that traveled down the street and around the corner, never again to know the rich smell of first grade Havana tobacco as the lid of the big humidor was opened. Never again would it know the rows of benches where cigar makers plied their trade, or the stools where apprentices sat stripping stems from tobacco leaves before placing the aromatic strips before the deft fingers of the cigar makers.

Somewhere it would house a modern family that smoked cigarettes. People who never knew the fine taste of an Orizaba cigar as rolled by John Kahlow would forget that the building in which they lived once housed 15 busy cigar makers and a number of apprentices.

And they perhaps would never know or little care that once upon a time the building held a store of fine tobacco valued at $5,000.

SKILL AND PRIDE—One afternoon last year we stopped in to visit Mr. Kahlow, who welcomed us cordially. We chatted for a time

Ten Years Ago

The loading of the first iron ore for shipment through the North Western Railway company's docks at Escanaba was ordered yesterday, and is to begin next Friday, March 12 to set a new record for early loading.

Local authorities on the habits of the snail are predicting that the annual spawning run of the silvery-bellied fish will begin early this spring, probably about March 25, in the various streams around Escanaba.

In addition to leading all other Upper Peninsula sales in the volume of retail sales, Escanaba tops the list in the amount of business done by wholesale establishments during 1935 according to a Bureau of Census report received by the Chamber of Commerce.

Just when most men feel they can engage in politics and possibly seek public office Mayor Frank Couzens of Detroit, at 35, is to retire from politics and devote himself to creating a business to pass on to three sons.

Twenty Years Ago
Johnny Mostil, Chicago American outfielder, slashed his throat so severely late today in a hotel room that the physicians at the hospital where he was taken said tonight that he could not live.

W. H. Needham, chairman of the Delta County board of supervisors, named as a member of the Republican state central committee, at the recent Republican state convention, will leave this morning for Lansing to attend the first meeting of the new committee.

Once more Nevada is in the grip of a gold rush. Whether it will produce the glamor and the treasure of old California the Comstock, the Klondyke or Goldfield remains to be seen.

and he told us of the early days in the cigar trade in Escanaba—for this city was once the cigar manufacturing capital of the Upper Peninsula.

And then, because we asked him to, he took his place at the one chair in front of the remaining cigar maker's bench and made a cigar. There are still men who will smoke nothing but a Kahlow cigar. It is his "selected clientele" as they say in the finer shops.

THEY ARE BORN—"There are only a few men who can learn to make a good cigar," Mr. Kahlow said. "The best are born good cigar makers, some of the others never got to be more than strippers."

Kahlow learned his trade in Milwaukee, traveled the country extensively as a young man before he came to Escanaba in 1888 and established a cigar factory here. At one time there were ten factories making cigars here, and the cigar makers union had the largest delegation of any union in the Labor Day parades. Kahlow was a strong union man himself, and in Philadelphia—before coming to Escanaba—he was president of the union there.

While he talked Kahlow's hands worked at rapid speed in making the cigar—laying the strips of tobacco for the filler covering them with the wrapper and rolling it into shape. The wrapper is trimmed with a wide-bladed knife, and sealed shut with a colorless paste.

THE LIGHTER SIDE—"There you are," he said. "Notice that the

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—President Truman is planning either a special message to Congress or a special statement to the nation asking for between $250,000,000 and $350,000,000 to be appropriated to him and which he will pass on as a direct loan to Greece. He will promise that this is merely a stopgap and that no long-range commitments will be made without the consent of Congress. Truman will also emphasize that the money will not be paid to Great Britain but to the Greek government. Diplomats admit privately, of course, that the Greek government is to the British government as Charlie McCarthy is to Edgar Bergen. One does the acting and the other does the talking so British policies are likely to prevail.

Inside fact is that President Truman is following a blueprint worked out by ex-OPA Administrator Paul Porter in Greece with the cooperation of the British. Inescapable fact also is that this represents one of the most important decisions of U. S. foreign policy since Franklin Roosevelt decided to convoy British munitions ships across the Atlantic in 1940.

The real fact is that the British empire is crumbling. It is crumbling so fast that not merely Greece, but Palestine and the entire Near East are involved and we have to make a quick decision if we are to save any of the pieces. So far the United States was paid a large part of the bill for the British and President Truman's new move looks like just another way of continuing the same.

The present trouble in Greece really dates back to the fact that the United States, for four disastrous years, has given the British a free hand and a blank check in Greece. While we supplied the lend-lease, the tanks, the food and the UNRRA supplies, the British proceeded to use all these to their own end. We had absolutely no control. And that is how Greece drifted into its present tragic mess.

—REMEDYING SPILT MILK—
There is no use in crying over spilt milk, unless you can save spilling more milk in the future. However, the whole tragedy of Greece, plus warnings of what was to come, was spelled out during the war in this column. And if we are going to avoid future mistakes, we should review carefully those we made in the past.

The Greek tragedy began at Casablanca. There, Roosevelt made the offhand but vital mistake of agreeing to Winston Churchill's idea that the Mediterranean was a British sphere of influence and that Britain should handle all political matters there. Roosevelt's advisers now explain he did not realize how far Churchill planned to go. Be that as it may, however from that time on, U. S. messages to U. S. personnel in Greece had to be sent through British codes. U. S. personnel could travel only in British airplanes, no U. S. orders in Greece could be given without a British OK, and even American citizens working for UNRRA in Greece had to wear British uniforms. (Merry-Go-Round 12-11-44).

And taking advantage of the American flag and American prestige, some very peculiar political moves were pulled by the British. One of them turned up only after a British UNRRA worker, L. F. R. Shepherd, was killed. It was then discovered that although called "Mister" Shepherd and travelling in an American jeep under the protection of an American flag, actually he was a colonel of British Army Intelligence.

Furthermore in Colonel Shepherd's hotel room were found receipts for huge amounts of gold sovereigns paid to Greek right-wing, Royalist leaders. Significantly the receipts were dated between Oct. 22 and Nov. 29, the latter date being four days before the Greek civil war broke. The receipts clearly showed that the gold sovereigns had been distributed to Royalist leaders to start the armed action for the King of Greece which brought much bloodshed to Athens. This was the excuse for sending in British troops. They have been there ever since.

Thus, using Roosevelt's blanket permission to Churchill to handle things political in the Mediterranean, and using the protection of UNRRA and the American flag, a British army officer had planted the first seeds of Greek turmoil. (Merry-Go-Round 3-22-45).

—ATHENS—"A CONQUERED CITY"—

These seeds of turmoil sprouted until U. S. tanks, loaned to the British, were riding through the streets of Athens, mowing down civilians. At that time U. S. Ambassador Alexander Kirk cabled the state department an unusual summary of Winston Churchill's orders to Gen. Ronald M. Scobie, perhaps the most amazing orders ever sent regarding a nation which fought with us as an ally.

"Do not hesitate," Churchill wired Scobie, "to act if you were in a conquered city. With the forces under your command you should be able to hand Elas (the anti-Royalists) a lesson. . . . You should not hesitate to open fire on any armed male in the Greek capital who assails the authority of the British or of the Greeks who are collaborating with the British. Keep and dominate Athens." (Merry-Go-Round 12-12-44).

Secretary of State Stettinius was so stunned by this brutal message that he issued a public statement divorcing the United States from British meddling in Greece—just the reverse of what President Truman is doing today.

Three U. S. army officers have been assigned to Peiping to teach the Chinese how to operate a laundry. That oughta take all the starch out of Sing Lee, who runs that little place just around the corner.

War brides are learning to cook American dishes in a Cleveland high school. Chinese chop suey, Irish stew, French fried potatoes and Italian spaghetti, for example.

WE NEED LOWER PRICES

(Milwaukee Journal)

Many prices are now too high, says Marjorie Eccles, chairman of the federal reserve board. We must get them down, he adds, in order to stop unrest among workers and to restore the purchasing power of fixed income groups and those who have not shared in the wage increases which have been received by workers in the highly organized industries.

The continued prosperity of the country depends on widespread high purchasing power. Since it is practically impossible to raise the income of those on pensions or other "fixed" income, the only way to keep high purchasing power general is to hold over the years to a relatively stable price level.

When prices mount quickly, even though some wages and some profits follow, there is bound to be distress. This is followed by unrest. The unrest in turn leads to demands for still higher wages by groups in a position to enforce their demands, with the result that the economy is thrown further out of balance, partly because dissatisfied workers tend to produce less at the very time they demand more.

The problem today as always is how to maintain high purchasing power. Wages are naturally a factor in that problem, but only one (and not the most important) factor. Purchasing power is high when production is high and there is a fair division of the money involved between management and labor. High production depends on management effectiveness and worker efficiency. A fair division of the money involved demands that a proper proportion of what is earned go to consumption and to investment. In practice, this means low unit profits and prices low in terms of wages—a combination possible only through capacity production.

Meeting this problem demands co-operation—business must want to produce at capacity and to keep its unit profits low; labor must be willing to give an honest day's work for fair real wages. If there is this co-operation, prices can come down, wages can be maintained and everybody can be happy. If the co-operation fails, there can be but one result—wage demands will force prices still higher, buyer resistance will ruin markets, falling demand will put men out of work, wages and profits will decline, stagnation will begin.

ABOUT ENGLISH SPELLING

This letter from a worried mother is typical of many that have come to me for years:

"I have a son who is in the third grade. He did not pass last year, and is failing again, because he simply cannot learn his spelling. I have tried to help him at home, but he still comes home with 'F's' on his report card. Please help me to teach him. I will gladly buy any book you recommend."

The same plaint is voiced by wives whose husbands cannot spell, by ex-exorcismen, by employers of stenographers, by teachers—all are seeking that which does not exist, i. e., a magic formula for good spelling.

I sympathize with these people who ask me to help them. And it is always with genuine regret that I tell them that no one has ever succeeded in making English spelling easy to learn.

There are several reasons why this is so. Chief among them are:

1. The English alphabet has but 26 letters with which to express more than 40 sounds. Of the letters, five are vowels,

Rock Farm Home
Destroyed By Fire

Rock, Mich.—The large two story farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Wieho Kaukola, 7 miles west of Rock, was completely destroyed by fire, possibly originating in defective wiring on Tuesday afternoon. The fire was first noticed about 3:30 by Mr. Kaukola, who attempted to go upstairs but was prevented by the heavy smoke. The Rock volunteer fire department was able to save the barn and other nearby buildings. It also saved all the furniture and personal effects from the ground floor, but Mr. and Mrs. Waino Maki Sr., who occupied the second story lost everything they owned except the clothes they were wearing. They were not at home at the time of the disaster. The property was partially covered by insurance.

Personals
Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Larson and Mrs. August Larson Sr. motored to Milwaukee Friday to see Mr. August Larson Sr. who is a patient at the Deaconess Hospital there.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Larson also left for Milwaukee Wednesday morning, to be with Mr. Larson, who may undergo a serious operation. His condition is still about the same as on his entry to the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Kaukola of Trenary lost their infant daughter at birth on Saturday, at St. Luke's Hospital, Marquette. Mrs. Kaukola is the former Ruth Niemi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Niemi of Trenary and Mr. Kaukola is a former resident of Rock.

Mr. and Mrs. Gust Aalto, and Mrs. Walter Englund have returned from Mohawk, Mich. where they have been employed for several months.

The Board of Trustees of the Lutheran church will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Koski Sunday evening, March 9.

Menominee Theater
Sought By Buyers

Menominee—Offers from two different parties interested in purchase of the city-owned Menominee theater caused council last night to defer for the present any action on renewing the lease of Maurice E. Cammack, present operator of the playhouse, who on Friday notified the city that he was exercising his option to renew his lease for a period of five years.

Council's only official move was to receive and file Cammack's telegraphic notice of his intention to renew the lease. Just before council convened, Mayor Otto R. Tickmeyer called the aldermen into committee session and advised them that he had been authorized to present an offer of $20,000 for the property and that identity of the prospective purchaser would be disclosed upon his arrival here within the next 10 days to work out details of his offer.

Mayor Eickmeyer's proposal was followed by another, presented by Ald. Herbert W. Beyersdorf, Fourth ward, who said another party, not the one mentioned by the mayor, also was interested in buying the theater and would pay considerably more than the $15,000 for which the city had offered to sell the property to Cammack.

Deputy Marshal
Injured In Crash

Marquette, —U. S. Deputy Marshal Dewey Hansen, 101 Genesee street, Marquette, and Isaac Winter, 63-year-old Gwin man, are in St. Luke's hospital suffering from injuries received in an auto crash on M-94 near Sundell Monday afternoon.

According to state police who investigated, the accident was caused by poor visibility. The highway has been narrowed considerably by snowfall and winds cause snow off the high banks alongside the highway to swirl over the road continuously.

Hansen, driving east on M-94, received a fractured right leg and kneecap, while Winter, who was traveling west, suffered a fractured rib and body bruises.

Trenary

Trenary, Mich.—Mrs. John Suoni and daughters of Laurium have moved into the Erick Peterson apartment where they will reside a few months. Mr. Suoni left Monday for Texas, where he will be employed. Mrs. Suoni and daughters will join him when school is out.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Pasanen and son Allen returned to their home here last week after spending a week visiting relatives at L'Anse and Herman. Their daughter Sylvia stayed at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Ylinen during her parent's absence.

Roy Betterly has been confined to his home the past few weeks with the measles.

Mr. and Mrs. Nestor Orava and Willard Quarfoot spent Sunday visiting with Mr. Orava's brother William near Munising.

Mrs. John Minor and son Harold are leaving this week for the Mayo Bros. Clinic at Rochester, Minn.

Edmond Ouellette spent Friday, Feb. 28th in Munising where he attended a Board of Supervisors meeting.

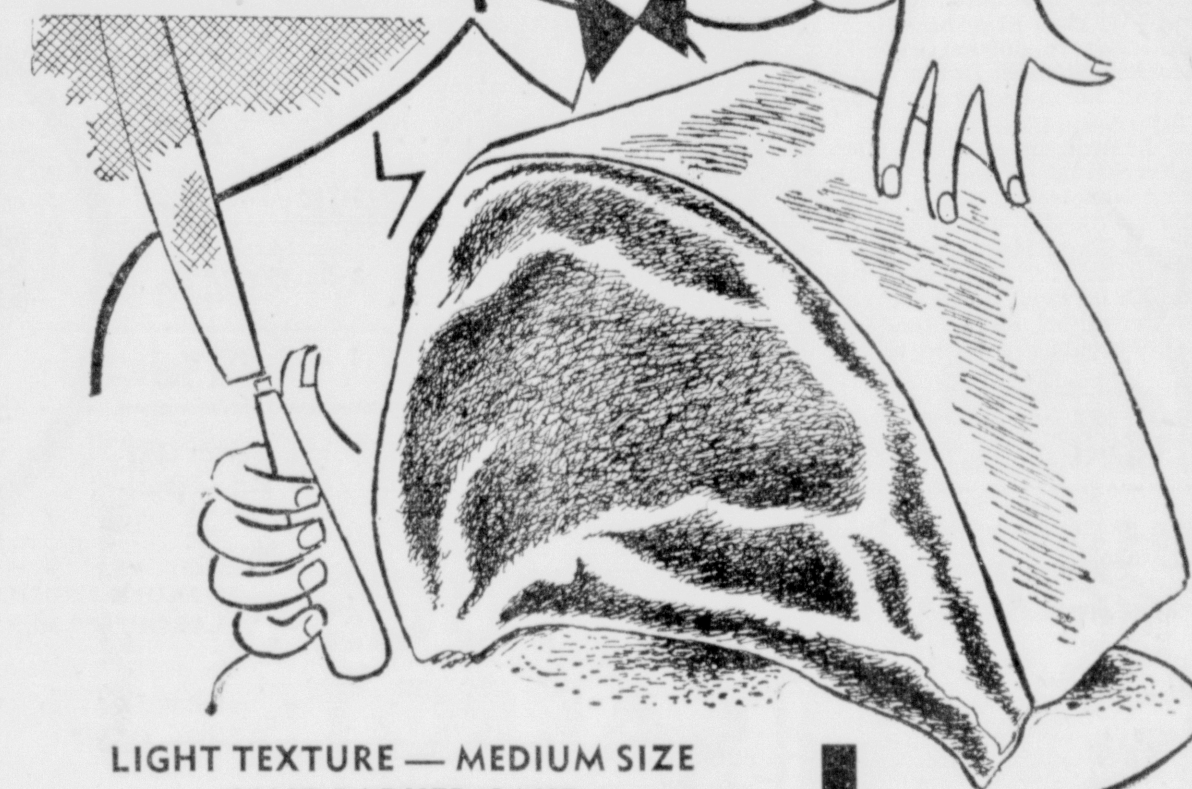

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Latvala, who were married Valentine's day have taken up residence at Diffen in the house formerly occupied by the Lawrence Joel family.

Escanaba Students Hear Hungarian Gitta Sereny Urge World-Mindedness

Promotion of world understanding through inter-cultural relations between the various countries of Europe and the United States was urged and promoted by Miss Gitta Sereny in an address before a packed assembly of students of Escanaba Senior High school Wednesday morning.

Miss Sereny suggested that high schools throughout the United States "adopt" a similar school in Europe. She encouraged correspondence amongst the scholars of the two continents.

Recently the Hungarian-born actress and nurse received a letter from a high school principal in Vienna stating that his students had approached him in an effort to organize a student government. He was informed that five Viennese schools had already adopted the plan. A student representative government has never existed before in Austria nor to any extent in other countries of Europe.

The climax of the lecture, delivered in an entertaining yet serious manner, came when one student asked what the United States could do to help.

"All through history one can read of the domination and then the fall of one major empire in the world. And Americans don't like the word 'empire.' If we of Europe are to survive, the United States must take her place as leader. The only other power in a position to Russia and she is ready to dominate at any time," declared the young woman.

"I myself like the Russian people, but I have no use for their system of government." The UNRRA worker then went on to relate the attitude and predicament of the European people who were devastated and plundered first by the Germans and then the Russians.

"Red tape in the countries of Europe occupied by Russian forces places them in dire straits," according to Miss Sereny. The people of Poland and other nations of Europe can not leave their houses without permission from the Russian authorities unless they stay within two miles of their homes.

In the recent Polish election the Communist party was put in power. Miss Sereny explained it thusly. The only opposition to the Communist party was headed by a man named Mykolajczek who is a god to the Poles. During the election he was not allowed under any circumstances to use the newspapers nor to have newsprint. Gasoline was denied him thus making a campaign impossible. His right to freedom of speech was denied even on the radio and in public meetings.

Most of the people refused to vote. When this happened the Russians which should have been registered were considered affirmative and tallied in with the Russian Communist vote count.

The people of Europe respect the English, for to them she is the symbol of justice and they have a hearty appreciation of her administration in the occupied countries.

With the United States it is much different according to the views of Miss Sereny. Our chief representation to the people is our 16-year-old group who are in the Occupation Forces. They, stated Miss Sereny, like the cleanliness and language fluency of the German people. "Their young eyes are taken with the wealth displayed by the German people without consideration for the source or the manner in which it was obtained."

While Miss Sereny was in Russia she saw seven children die in one day at an orphanage. It was due to starvation. "In France 98 per cent of the babies born in the last two years have tuberculosis. The future of Europe is appalling under such condition."

America needs to help them both in leadership and welfare stated Miss Sereny. World trade is what actually affords us a high standard of living; without it we would lose much. But Europe, which is like an intensified and magnified Germany, as she was left after the last war, is not financially able to reciprocate in trade.

"Fostering of a world-minded people, both in the Americas and foreign countries, is a first step toward a peaceful world order," summarized Miss Sereny.

was given by the Rev. Serge Hummon and some of his movies on the life of Lincoln were shown.

Ava Gardner Says
Clark Gable Is Good At Kissing

BY GENE HANDSAKER
Hollywood—Clark Gable had spent all morning kissing Ava Gardner when I looked in on the set of "The Hucksters." What with lights that failed and passing fire engines that spoiled the sound track, the scene had required—think of it, girls—14 takes.

Mindful of Gable's feminine fans, I asked Ava to describe his kiss. Miss Gardner, a lush brunette with a cleft chin and a beautifully developed and, as it happened, revealingly costumed bosom, replied thoughtfully, "Firm but tender."

Didn't his cookie-duster mustache tickle? At a time like that, Ava explained, you're not thinking about mustaches. Gable said Miss Gardner's kiss was "full-lipped and sweet." Ava Gardner, who's his favorite kisser in 17 years on the screen? Gable's laugh was a roar. "I'm not answering that!"

The big man with the big ears, blue eyes, and easily wrinkling forehead was coughing and croaking from a cold. He had caught it from 4-year-old Diane Perrin and probably would pass it on to Ava, Deborah Kerr, Connie Gilchrist, and Lillian Bronson, all of whom he kisses in "The Hucksters" one of the kissing films Gable ever made.

In preparation for such rigors, he has trimmed 17 pounds from his figure by dieting and two months of daily golf. He's 46 and weighs 195 pounds.

His thick brown hair is only a little gray at the temples. He is, in fact, a walking testimonial for his health rules, which include: Don't take yourself too seriously. Don't overindulge in eating, drinking, smoking, or anything. Don't try to do too much. Don't worry. Exercise regularly.

Gable's avoidance of overwork extends to a clause in his contract. It provides that his work day of kissing and other acting shall end at 5 p. m. Others must toil until 6.

John B. Rogers Company Will Produce Historical Spectacle Here

FESTIVAL WILL HAVE PAGEANT

Colorful Program Will Be Staged Nightly At Athletic Field

The John B. Rogers Producing company of Postoria, O., yesterday was engaged by the Hiawathaland festival committee to stage a four-day historical spectacle in Escanaba July 3 to 6.

Pageant masters and promotion directors of the Rogers company will come to Escanaba six weeks ahead of the presentation to assemble and direct a cast of 600 local persons. About sixty per cent of the cast will be adults and the remainder school children.

Besides directing the production and advising the committee on all phases of the festival, the Rogers company will write the script of the pageant, furnish scenery, costumes, and lighting equipment. The spectacle will depict the early Indian life in the Upper Peninsula, the coming of the early Jesuit missionaries and French explorers, the construction of the Chicago and North Western railway and docks, Escanaba's participation in World Wars I and II, the lumbering industry and finally the development of the Hiawathaland region's tourist and resort industry.

Choral Groups To Sing

Choral groups of the Escanaba schools, the Orpheus Choral club and other groups will be invited to participate in the musical program to be presented during the historical spectacle.

Theodore Fish, sales manager of the John B. Rogers Producing company, was in Escanaba yesterday to make preliminary arrangements for the production at a meeting of the pageant and executive committees. Members of the pageant committee are: John A. Lemmer, chairman; Charles Folio, vice chairman; Nevin Reynolds, Norman Hanson, Joseph Ivens, Clint Dunathan, A. L. Shomento, Jessie Wick, Mrs. Earl Frechette and Sam Ham.

The Rogers company, established in 1903, is the largest producer of civic celebrations and pageant-spectacles. This year, it will produce the spectacle at the 75th anniversary celebration at Yellowstone National Park and hundreds of other outdoor pageants throughout the country.

Prodigious Many Spectacles

Among the outstanding celebrations that have used and are still using the Rogers service are: the Will Rogers Memorial Celebration, Santa Monica, Calif.; Pan-American DeSoto Exposition, Tampa, Fla.; National Chattanooga Celebration, Chattanooga, Tenn.; Cavalcade of Baseball, Brooklyn, St. Louis, San Francisco and other major league cities; Wisconsin Tercentenary, Green Bay, Wis.; Festival of States celebration, St. Petersburg, Fla.; Gold Rush Days, Sutter Creek, Calif., and the Quest of Marcos de Niza, Tucson, Ariz.

The Hiawathaland festival committee has signed contracts for an elaborate fireworks program and a free act, the Flying Duwads. The latter, a high grade trapeze act, which at one time played with the Ringling Brothers circus, will be staged each afternoon and evening on the new municipal dock, at the end of Ludington street.

Arrangements are being made for a colorful historical parade, street dancing, swimming, sailing, speedboat and outboard motorboat races, archery, tennis and fly and bait casting tournaments, a boxing show and many other sports events.

An impressive event is planned for Sunday morning when union outdoor religious services will be held at the Escanaba high school athletic field. The Hiawathaland historical spectacle also will be staged nightly at the athletic field.

National Guardsmen Draft Future Plans

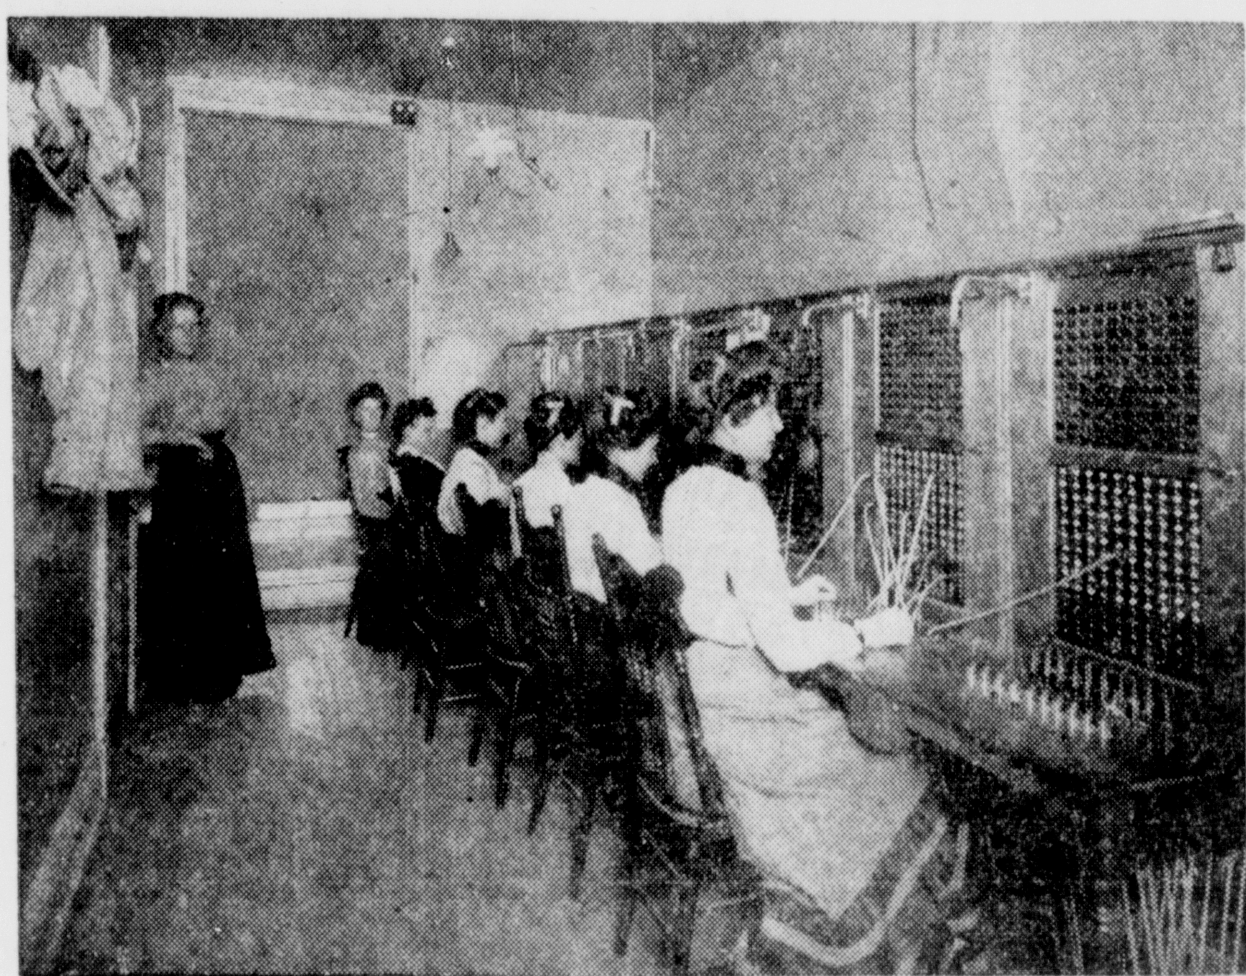

At a regular meeting of the local unit of the National Guard, Wednesday evening in the Armory, plans for the future training program in Escanaba were formulated.

Discussion periods embraced the duties of a National Guardsman and orientation for new members. The National Guard here is a part of the 32nd Division, which took part during World War II in the Battle of the Bulge and construction work in France and Germany. In the early days of the war some of the troops destined for England were shipped, because of an emergency, to the Pacific theater.

All men who are interested in becoming a member of the local defense group are urged to be present at the regular Wednesday meetings.

"NUMBER PLEASE"—As It Was in 1904—The Bell company telephone exchange in 1904 was located on the second floor of the Fogarty building, now the home of the Escanaba Daily Press. Six operators and the supervisor are pictured in the days when there were about 800 customers. Pictured (left to right), are Miss Peterson, believed now to be living in Oregon; and seated, Anne Johnson, now in California; Sophia Herbst, deceased; Mattie Drake, Gladstone; Anna Pryal, deceased; Miss Kibbie, deceased; and Lottie Mineau, now in California. Miss Mineau went into the movies after leaving Escanaba, was an Essay star in the silent picture days.

First "Number Please!" Was Heard Here In 1886

For about 57 years in Escanaba people have been lifting telephone receivers and hearing a pleasant female voice say "number please." When telephone service was first started there were only a half-dozen customers in the city. Today there are nearly 4,900.

Exactly when the first exchange was opened is a date blurred by time. Older residents say about 1886 or 1887, but folks didn't take to the new-fangled contraption and it was succeeded in 1889 by the Independent Exchange, opened by George W. Finch. At first Finch's exchange is the first so far as present records show.

The Independent Exchange had seven subscribers and a line to Ford River Mill, serving the Ford River Lumber company.

The Bell Telephone company had an exchange in Escanaba either a few years prior to the Finch company, or about the same time, for it is recorded that by 1894 the Bell company withdrew from the field, leaving three telephones connected together to hold its franchise.

First Bell telephone personnel on record here consisted of George Healey as manager, Paul Bolin, lineman, Miss Robertson as day operator, and William Mason night operator. Mr. Healey and Miss Robertson later married and he was employed by the Bell company in Detroit.

In 1897 the company again opened an exchange in Escanaba with Harry Adams as manager, and two years later was succeeded by W. J. McCue. It was McCue who came here as construction foreman for the company, and it was at that time that the exchange was moved to the second floor of the Fogarty building—now the home of the Escanaba Daily Press.

From its original beginning in 1889 with a half-dozen phones the list of customers had grown to 550.

One of the "Number please!" girls of 1904 was Miss Charlotte (Lottie) Mineau, who later became famous in the old silent days of the moving picture and is still living in California. First in stock with Escanaba in Chicago, Miss Mineau later in California was co-featured in films with Wallace Beery, Charles Chaplin, Charles Murray, Ford Sterling and other stars of the period.

Nine consecutive all-star comedies with Hal Roach studios, and supporting parts with Mary Pickford, Mabel Normand, Laurette Taylor followed for the one-time Escanaba telephone girl.

In 1905 it was decided to rebuild the Escanaba exchange and this required an increase in rates, which brought an immediate and loud protest. In fact it brought a public indignation meeting in the city hall where voices were raised.

World War I Jacket Brings Letter From Young German

An Army jacket, worn in World War I, sent to Germany last summer with other clothing collected in the European relief drive, sponsored by Bethany Lutheran church, brought a letter of gratitude Thursday morning from Hans Joschin Welse, of Bremen, Germany, to Mrs. Emil Oslund, 1020 North 22nd street.

Mrs. Oslund had placed her address in a pocket of the jacket when she turned it in to the church, but had no means of knowing where it would be sent until the letter was delivered to her yesterday.

The letter was written in German, and, translated by an Escanaba resident, who is educated in the language, it told that the writer is an architect, but is now working as a gardener in the United States Zone of the Deutschland. His father, he said, is a Lutheran minister, who at present is serving as a chaplain in the "prison camps in the Russian Zone a mile from Berlin."

New Superintendent To Visit Church

Dr. Meredith and his family, Mrs. Meredith and their daughter, Jean, and Miss Gurtner will be guests of Rev. and Mrs. Steen, at the parsonage, during the day.

Large Catches Of Smelt Reported

Menominee—Although the run of smelt in Green bay is not expected by local commercial fishermen for about two weeks, catches ranging as high as 2,700 pounds per day have been reported here.

The three main commercial fish dealers here said that they were getting smelt every day, but not yet in large quantities. One reported receiving 1,200 pounds yesterday, another 1,000 pounds and the third from 500 to 800 pounds daily average.

The fishermen have been active in the past weeks in ice fishing, which was curtailed earlier in the season by adverse weather conditions.

Upper Peninsula Power Seeks O. K. From Commission

Philadelphia (P)—An applica-tion from the newly organized Upper Peninsula Power Co. of Michigan was on file at the Se-curities and Exchange Commis-sion seeking approval of a series of transactions.

The company, located in Hough-ton, Mich., seeks dissolution of 3 companies, Houghton County Electric Light Co., Iron Range Light and Power Co., and Copper District Power Co., whose assets Upper Peninsula plans to acquire.

Upper Peninsula said it would purchase the outstanding securi-ties for the three companies to be dissolved.

It also proposes to issue and sell through competitive bidding $3,500,000 principal amount of first mortgage bonds due in 1977, 10,000 shares of $100 par cumula-tive preferred and 180,000 $10 par common.

Houghton and the Copper Dis-trict also will be paid sufficient cash to redeem at 103 per cent their respective outstanding first mortgage bonds, the company ap-plication said.

Holders of the outstanding se-curities of Upper Peninsula pre-decessor companies will be paid proceeds from the sale of those securities not used in redemption of the Houghton and Copper Dis-trict bonds.

The company said registration statements would be filed cover-ing the new securities to be issued. Parent companies of Upper Pen-insula Power are the Consolidated Electric and Gas Co., New York, and the Middle West Corp., Wil-mington, Del.

OWN TORPEDO SANK U. S. SUB

John Foster One Of 78 Who Lost Lives In Tragedy

The graphic story of the destruc-tion of the submarine Tang is re-lated in a recent Associated Press story appearing under a New York dateline. Trooper John Foster of the Gladstone Post, Michigan State Police, was a torpedoman aboard the Tang and lost his life in the catastrophe.

The story follows:
New York, March 4. (P)—The story of the submarine Tang, blown up with a loss of 78 lives by one of its own torpedoes which boomeranged at the end of a re-cord making Pacific patrol in 1944, was described in detail today by Vice Adm. Charles A. Lock-wood, navy inspector general.

He told the annual convention of the Institute of Radio Engineers how the Tang's 24th and last tor-pedo, fired at a Japanese trans-port, circled back and struck the submarine itself.

The navy announced in Septem-ber, 1945, that the Tang torpedoed herself accidentally but did not re-lease the submarine's full action report until today.

Sank 110,000 Tons
The Tang had just completed a raid off the China coast in which she sank 110,000 tons of Japanese shipping, described by the navy as "the highest sinking score on a single patrol of any submarine in the war."

Comdr. Dick O'Kane, skipper of the submarine and one of nine survivors, said in his report, which was quoted by Lockwood, that "one consolation for those of us who were washed off the bridge into the water was the explosion of our 23rd torpedo against the last target which immediately set-tled by the stern."

O'Kane described how he followed the 24th torpedo by its phosphorescent wake as it made the half circle.

Calls For Full Speed
He said "almost instantly I rang up emergency full speed," but the torpedo crashed into the submar-ine 20 seconds after being fired.

"The tops were blown off the after ballast tanks, and the three after compartments were flooded in-stantly," he said. "The Tang sank so rapidly that there was insuffi-cient time even to carry out the last order to close the hatch."

The survivors were captured by the Japanese and later released.

Berlin Planning To Restore Parks

Berlin, (Pa.)—Berlin has a five year plan for reconstruction of its ravaged parks.

Some parks will present an entirely changed appearance. The Tiergarten in the heart of the city for example, once known for its beautiful trees, will become a vast plot of grass and flowers. Berliners have stripped it of what trees were left at the end of the war. Herds of sheep will be allowed to roam the park to keep its grass short.

4-H LEADERS
ARE HONORED

Were Presented With Awards At Banquet
Wednesday

Describing Paul Bunyan's noble philosophy and qualities of leadership with humorous familiar tales William A. Kluender, forestry agent of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway, praised the recurring efforts of local 4-H leaders at the recognition banquet held at Denny's restaurant on Wednesday evening.

The wholesome father and son relationship of Ivan and Paul Bunyan formed the background of much of Paul's attitudes and philosophy of life. Although Paul earned techniques of logging from his father, he outdid him in many of the jobs for every week he found a better way of doing some particular phase of the work.

Culinary talents, which 4-H work promotes, Paul appreciated. His camp cooks were always the best he could find.

It was Paul's interest in agriculture which later led to the beginning of the experiment station farm and Camp Shaw at Chatham, Mich.

European, Asiatic and American Indian mythology with tales of tolerance, honesty, and clean living would do much to relieve the present day international tension.

Mr. Kluender concluded his talk with the Indian toast, "May the Great Spirit put sunshine in your heart now and forevermore. Heap much."

Mr. Kluender presented the two highest awards of the evening, a pearl pin representing 15 years of 4-H leadership to Elgie Dow of Cooks, and a gold pin representing 10 years of leadership to Mrs. Gladys Backwell of Manistique.

With appropriate remarks of appraisal Mrs. Ada Watson, Schoolcraft county school commissioner, presented five year pins to Mrs. Clifford Christensen, Mrs. Beda Hough, Mrs. Myrtle Wierenga, Mrs. John Sypher, Mrs. Catherine Beal, and Miss Beatrice Thorely.

Mrs. Watson presented one year pins to Mrs. Ed Deloria, Edmund Popour, Mrs. Elizabeth Evers, Mrs. L. E. Hambeau, Robert Michaels, Mrs. Minnie McGirk, Mrs. Henry Nelson, Edwin Johnson, Mrs. Harold Peters, Mrs. Walter Burns, Mrs. Mae Hutt, Mrs. Doris Morrison, Mrs. Mona Aldrich, Mrs. Norman Strassler, Mrs. Frank Arrowood and Mrs. C. Tovey.

A few remarks on 4-H work were made by Fred Bernhardt, the district 4-H club agent.

Mrs. Clifford Christensen and Mrs. Mae Hutt led the group singing.

Joseph Heirman, the county agricultural agent acted as toastmaster of the evening.

Saul, the first king of the Hebrews, had no fixed home, but lived in a tent.

EASTER SEAL
CAMPAIGN ON

Organization Meeting To Be Held Tuesday Evening

The annual Seal Sale for Crippled Children is now on and people of Schoolcraft county are being urged to contribute to this worthy cause.

Mrs. Carl Anderson, chairman for Schoolcraft county, in announcing the annual drive in this area, emphasized the fact that last year the gross receipts in the drive here amounted to $651 or a gain of over 265 per cent over the year previous and expressed the hope that the people of the county would continue to be equally generous.

Through these funds many needs of crippled children and adults not provided for by other agencies for the handicapped are supplied.

The drive will continue to April 6, Easter Sunday.

The Schoolcraft County Lay committee, which is sponsoring the sale here held a luncheon at Denny's private dining room Thursday, March 6, when plans for conducting the campaign were made and workers assigned their various tasks.

Probably Won't
Ever Do It Again

The Nationals, one of the Elks lodge bowling teams, had standardization down to a fine point the other evening. In one of its matches with three games played the Nationals bowled a total of exactly 821 for each game. Incidentally the Nationals won each game.

On the team were Ken Van Eyck, E. Ekland, F. Christenson, R. Williams and Dr. E. J. Brenner.

Aircraft in flight may reliably receive airways weather broadcasts by radiotelephone up to a distance of approximately 100 miles from the transmitting station.

Distric Rotary
Governor Visits
Club Here Monday

"We have to learn to live together," Harold Lindsay, Escanaba businessman and governor of the 143rd district of Rotary International, told members of the Manistique Rotary club at its regular week-day luncheon at Hotel Ossa Monday noon, making the statement to stress the point that "there is a job for every man today in supporting the program of the United Nations."

He asked that members of Rotary defend the U. N. at all times. "To be a Rotarian is a badge of distinction which involves the obligation of leadership," he said.

"Rotary is unique in that it does not ask your creed, your religion, your political philosophy. No other organization in the world today is free from those handicaps," he added.

"None of the 200,000 of us in 3,600 American communities are exactly alike," he said, in discussing the membership of his organization, "but we are all 'grass roots' citizens, we believe in getting things done at the local level, instead of leaning on governmental agencies for answers to our problems."

Eskymos Meet Gladstone Braves In Basketball Finale Tonight

TEAMS RENEW LONG RIVALRY

Largest Crowd Of Season Likely At Junior High

It's Escanaba vs. Gladstone tonight at the junior high school gymnasium and that means an evening of thrilling basketball for the fans. There will be two games on the program, the reserve teams of the schools meeting in the preliminary at 7:00 p. m. with the varsity teams booked for action at 8:15 o'clock.

The game probably will draw the largest crowd of the season at the local gymnasium, despite the series of sustained defeat suffered by the Eskymos. The Gladstone Braves won the first game played between the teams, 31-25, at Gladstone early in January, with the aid of a big second period scoring rally. The Eskymos will have the advantage of their home floor this time, plus the inspiration that comes with a burning determination to end the most disastrous losing streak in Escanaba high school basketball history.

Last year the Eskymos won 13 games in a row before losing the final pre-tournament of the season to Kingsford. Then they went on to win four more games and the Upper Peninsula championship. This time the Eskymos opened with a victory over St. Joseph and then lost 12 in a row. They will exactly balance last year's season should they lose to the Braves tonight. That is, naturally, just what they are determined not to do.

Cota will start at center tonight for the Eskymos, with Abrahamson and Hirm or Deane at forwards; Lough and Pryal, guards.

Officials will be Vance Hiney and Oscar Wassberg, both of Ne-gaunee. Coach Henry Wylie's Eskymo Reserve team will also be out for revenge. The local reserves lost to Gladstone, 27 to 25, in a thriller at Gladstone. The starting lineup for the reserves will be Pearson or Sundquist, left forward; Carlson or Carlson, right forward; Holt or Carlson, center; O'Connell and O'Seen, guards.

AFTER NO. 2
Gladstone—Hoping to make it two straight over the Eskymos and salvage something from a season which has been far from bright, the Gladstone Braves travel to Escanaba tonight for the season's finale.

Another victory over their old foe would go far toward making fans forget the season's record of FUN AT BOXING SHOW—Boxing fans at Manistique had a night of thrills and spirited action Monday at the Manistique Lions club's annual spring boxing show. Here is a portion of the

Spartans Have High Mark In Attendance

East Lansing, March 6 (P)—Attendance at 12 Michigan State College home games during the 1946-47 season was 81,821, or 21,288 more than the previous record set last season, it was announced today.

The Spartans also played to 50,940 fans in nine road games, boosting their total attendance figure to 130,761, the highest in M. S. C. history.

Largest home crowds were 11,305 at the Notre Dame game and 10,003 at the Michigan contest last week. Over 14,000 saw the Spartans play De Paul in Chicago Stadium.

three victories and eight defeats. By comparison the Braves have been doing alright for the Eskymos won their opener from St. Joseph's and then dropped 12 in a row. They also wind up the season tonight.

Capt. Kee and Valind will be at forwards; Gillis at center and Pearson and Richards at guards.

The following weekend the Braves will compete in the Class C tournament at Norway.

BIG JOES BEAT GLADSTONE, 2-1

Two Marquette Teams In Action Tonight At Indoor Rink

Stambaugh Big Joes defeated the Gladstone Indians, 2-1, in an overtime battle to open the U. P. amateur hockey tournament last night at the indoor rink.

It was a keenly fought battle throughout with the Stambaugh goalie staving off an unbroken rain of shots. The payoff blow came late in the 10 minute overtime period.

Tonight two Marquette teams will be in action, South Marquette vs. Marquette Liberty Loans at 8:15 o'clock, a battle that promises a lot more excitement for the fans.

The Escanaba Hawks will make their opening bid for the title Saturday night, meeting one of the winners of the first two games.

The stars Arcturus and Vega are much brighter than our sun. Vega is 51 times, and Arcturus 112 times, as bright.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

A big year is looming for softball in Escanaba and, in fact, in the entire Upper Peninsula. It is significant that the local association and the U. P. association are making plans early to capitalize on the opportunity for an early start for a program of softball that almost certainly will reach record proportions next summer. Some of the Escanaba teams are already being organized and the local association is urging other team managers to hurry along their preparations so that the leagues can get off to a fast start.

A revolutionary idea has been injected into organized softball in Escanaba and it works out satisfactorily. It undoubtedly will spread to other associations in the area. We are referring, of course, to the plan to insure all players in local softball leagues, with the association standing half of the cost of such insurance. Several teams were insured last year with the coverage being paid by team sponsors. This year it is desired to broaden the coverage so that all players in the league will be protected.

It is impossible to adopt blanket coverage for all players unless it is desired only to cover doctor and hospital expenses involved in injuries to players. The plan in Escanaba is to include lost time coverage for players gainfully employed, as well as medical and hospital costs. Since not all players are gainfully employed, it will require two insurance plans to meet the requirements, one for those unemployed and another for those gainfully employed. It is a noble experiment and one that will be followed keenly by softball interests throughout the peninsula.

The Upper Peninsula Association will hold its first meeting of the year in Escanaba on Sunday, April 6, at which time plans will be discussed for revising the constitution. New officers also will be elected and a nominating committee comprising C. C. Watson, Ishpeming; A. A. Schabow, Escanaba; and Paul Ropelle, Marquette, has been chosen. The eligibility of players also will be discussed and clarification of the eligibility of players residing in Wisconsin but playing in Michigan probably will be determined. In any case, it is rather certain that such players will not be declared eligible in both states, but he probably will get an opportunity to make a selection.

SWIFT'S BEAT SILVER FOXES

Bark River Team Puts On Final Spurt, Wins, 42-34

Tom Swift's basketball team maintained their superiority over the Hermansville Silver Foxes last night, defeating the Silver Fox team, 42 to 34, in a keenly fought Northern Lakes league basketball game at the junior high school gymnasium.

With only slightly more than a minute left to play, Swift's held a single point lead, 33-32, but three quick field goals put the game safely in the bag.

Both teams were ragged in their shooting, however, scoring a considerably smaller percentage of their shots than normally.

Hermansville led in the first period, 9 to 6, but Swift's came back with 17 points in the second frame to grab a 23-14 lead at half time.

The Foxes rallied spiritedly in the third quarter and remained in the thick of a close battle right up to the final minute of play.

TROJANS SET SCORING MARK

St. Joseph Wins From Felch By Score Of 60 To 48

New scoring records were posted last night as the St. Joseph Trojans downed a scrappy Felch high school basketball team, 60 to 48, at the Bonifas gymnasium.

It was a big night for the Trojans who marked up victories in the two preliminary games as well. The St. Joseph girls defeated the P-K's, 32-27, in the first preliminary and the St. Joseph reserves licked the Felch Reserves, 47-28, in the second preliminary.

The teams set a terrific pace in the feature game of the night. The battle opened slowly enough, the Trojans leading 3 to 5 at the end of the first period, but from there on in, it was a steady parade. The Trojans scored 19 points in the second period and again in the third frame, closing with a 14 point scoring burst.

Lewis scored 20 points for St. Joseph, marking up a new individual scoring record at the local parochial high school. His total of 186 for the season betters the former record of 160, set by Babe Kleiman in 1941-42. Lewis played in only 12 of the Trojans' 14 games this season while Kleiman established his record over a 16-game schedule.

The St. Joseph team also set a new scoring record, 530 points, to decisively better the former record of 494 set last year.

Atomites Of Nahma Ready For Dagggett

The Nahma High School Atomites close their basketball season Friday night at Nahma, playing Anne Fleming's cagers of Dagggett. This game has been set aside as Booster Night. It is expected that one of the largest crowds of the season will be on hand to cheer for their favorites.

It will be a homecoming for Anne Fleming, as she was Nahma High School's first superintendent and basketball coach. Mrs. Fleming is the only woman basketball coach in the Upper Peninsula.

The Dagggett quintet, playing without two regulars, made a good showing at Cooks and have shown improvement with every game. Nahma will be trying for its seventh victory of the season and to better their record for the tournament next week at Rapid River.

The seventh and eighth grades will meet in a preliminary at 7:30 E.S.T., and the main game will be at 8:30 E.S.T.

The starting lineup for the Atomites will be the same as the one that defeated Harris last Friday. The fine showing William Mercier made at center last Friday has earned him a starting position since Kenneth Sheello has been dropped from the team for insubordination. The rest of the lineup will consist of Phalen and Newhouse at forward and Smith and Miller at guard with Atkinson, F. Gerou and R. Gereau in reserve.

Except for the tourney, this game will be the last high school

PINE MOUNTAIN SKI MEET HELD

Perrault Of Ishpeming Bucks Head Wind To Leap 207 Feet

Iron Mountain, Mich., March 6 (P)—Joseph Perrault of Ishpeming, Mich., bucked a stiff head wind but soared 201 and 207 feet on his two jumps to win the Pine Mountain ski meet today after repeated postponements since Sunday had cut the field from 160 to 50 riders.

The strong wind made the big hill extremely tricky and eliminated any chance for the riders to beat the 289-foot American record set here in 1942 by the late Torger Tokle.

Weather conditions forced day to day postponement of the meet. The Norwegian and Swedish contingent, including Arnold Kongsgaard of Norway, who won the National meet at Ishpeming, could not remain to compete.

Perrault scored 148 points for the Class A honors, and far outdistanced his nearest rival, Ted Zoberski of Ironwood, Mich., who leaped 178 and 175 feet for 139.5 points.

Ralph Thorsen of Iron Mountain made the third longest leap of the day—197 feet and, with another jump of 175 feet, scored 141.4 points for the Class B honors.

Wilbert Rasmussen, 17-year old sensation from Ishpeming, leaped 168 and 190 feet and totaled 142.4 points for the Class C honors. Rasmussen holds Ishpeming's Suicide Hill record of 250 feet.

BASEBALL

Clearwater, Fla., March 6 (P)—Manager Ben Chapman of the Philadelphia Phillies disclosed today that two holdouts—Southpaw Pitcher Oscar Judd and Infielder Ray Hughes—are on their way to spring training quarters.

Judd is en route from his Ingersoll, Ont., home to sign up, having agreed to accept a salary believed to be around $10,000. Hughes, who resides at San Antonio, Texas, has not come to an agreement but is expected to fall in line after arrival.

Lakeland, Fla., March 5 (P)—The Detroit Tigers called their first squad game of the training season for Friday—a seven-inning affair, with youngsters Jerry Burke and Lou Kretlow sharing one mound assignment and Hank Perry and Rufus Gentry the other. The Tigers are scheduled to play Cincinnati Sunday at Tampa in their first exhibition game.

Detroit's first line pitchers took their turns against batting practice hitters today and southpaw Hal Newhouse let out his best speed of the year.

"A couple more good workouts like this," Newhouse said, "and I'll be ready to pitch. My arm never felt better."

Virgil Trucks and Al Benton also faced the "regulars" in batting practice, concentrating on curve balls, and Freddie Hutchinson worked on his fast one.

Shortstop Eddie Lake, last arrival in camp, showed up in time to take infield drill with Roy Cullenbine at first, Eddie Mayo at second base and George Kell at third.

Grade School Cage Tourney Saturday

Escanaba grade schools will have their annual basketball tournament Saturday morning at the junior high school gymnasium on the following schedule:

9 a. m.—Jefferson vs. Franklin.

10 a. m.—Barr vs. St. Joseph.

11 a. m.—Webster vs. Washington.

At 1:15 p. m. an all-star sixth grade team will play Coach Bill Buckelwart's seventh graders.

BAY ICE STILL HOLDING SOLID

Fishing Continues And Breakup Is Several Weeks Away

Despite several days of thawing weather, ice in Green Bay continues solid, fishermen are continuing their winter operations, and the breakup appears to be several weeks away.

The weather bureau ice report for the Great Lakes this week reveals solid ice 18 to 24 inches thick, except in the carryover channel and Sturgeon Bay and Menominee which has been kept open by the daily passage of the boat. Because of the depth of the ice the curfies make slow progress, it was reported.

Last year the ice broke up in Little Bay de Noc on March 27, but the opening may be later this year because of the greater depth of ice this winter.

On March 27 last year, Capt. Dan Garrett of the Escanaba lighthouse station reports, the ice was nearly gone from Little Bay de Noc and the fishing fleet was starting operations. On that day also the lighthouse was placed in commission.

In preparation for the breakup and the start of navigation this year the crew of the Escanaba and Minneapolis Shoals light-houses are starting to recondition the buoys in winter storage on the Reiss coal dock. The buoys which will mark navigation channels on the bay will be scraped, repaired and repainted.

The ice on the bay is expected to break up quickly as soon as warm weather and wind comes. Loosening around the shore the ice will drift out and break up, as it did last year. The Escanaba Coal & Dock company has a coal boat tentatively scheduled to arrive in Escanaba the first week in April with a cargo of coal loaded at Cleveland.

The ice report for the Great Lakes shows maximum ice at Munising 24 inches, Marquette 10 inches, Duluth 29 inches, St. Mary's river 30 inches, Mackinaw City 30 inches, Menominee 18.

The icebreaker Mackinaw has been operating through the Straits of Mackinac where ice is badly windrowed in places to a depth of 40 feet. Ice in the whole there is much heavier than in the past several years.

Barber Shoppers To Hold Contest

Iron Mountain.—When on Saturday night, May 17, the curtain in the auditorium of Iron Mountain High swings back, promptly at 8 o'clock, the audience will greet the first all-barbershop-quartet program ever held in this city or the Upper Peninsula. It is an event now being arranged by North Woods chapter, Iron Mountain, of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America, and several outstanding attractions have already been booked.

Among the nation's leading quartets which will headline the show are the famous Harmony Halls, of Grand Rapids, 1944 international Barbershop winners; the Four Harmonizers, of Chicago, 1943 winners; the Barons of Harmony, of Saginaw, Mich., 1946 all-state winner, and the Chordettes, of Sheboygan, Wis., one of the few all-girl quartets in the international organization.
